

A hammock is strung between two trees in a field of tall, dry grass. The hammock is filled with several colorful quilts and pillows. One quilt features a large blue and white floral pattern, while another has a yellow and white pattern. Two pillows with large, colorful floral designs are also visible. To the left of the hammock, a small round table holds a green bottle, a red gift box, and two glasses of water with straws. The background shows a clear blue sky and some distant trees.
